

Approved For Release 2000/08/27 :
NEWS

CENTURY 66,437
SUNDAY 66,344

CIA 'Agent' Must Face U.S. Court

(News Miami Bureau)

MIAMI—A Ft. Lauderdale used car salesman, who is alleged to have impersonated an officer of the Central Intelligence Agency to purchase an airlines ticket to San Francisco with a check, is free on $1,000 bond today.

Jack G. Leahy, 54, of 2107 NE 17th Ave., was taken into custody at Miami International Airport Monday by FBI agents after a National Airlines ticket clerk became suspicious of "identification" cards.

A federal grand jury Wednesday indicted Leahy on a charge of impersonating a CIA agent in the purchase of an airlines ticket.

The information said Leahy sought to pay for a ticket with a check and claimed the trip was on "official CIA business."

CPYRGHT